“We are all caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied into a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly.”

—Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Season to Be Thankful

Thanksgiving is a few weeks away. With all that is happening in the world, we should pause and give thanks for our lives. There are people in the world who do not have homes food, etc. They are in war-torn countries and are forced to take refuge in other countries. Think about how it feels to be a foreigner in another country. One does not have the comforts of home or family or friends. As Americans, we sometimes take certain comforts for granted. So, doing this Thanksgiving, please take some time to ponder our lives and the lives of our family members and give thanks.

Thanksgiving

President's Message

Greetings my fellow neighbors,

During October and as we journey into the first days of November, we are experiencing some lovely sunshine and cooler temperatures. I hope that you are having an opportunity to walk or visit the outside during some of these days. By the time that you receive this newsletter, I hope that you had an opportunity to vote in the general and special election on November 7.

Please plan to join us for the next civic club meeting, which will be via Zoom on Tuesday, November 14, at 7:00 P.M. Watch for a notice from the civic club in your email box for the link and telephone, number passcode, etc. to allow you to join the meeting or you can visit the civic club's website.

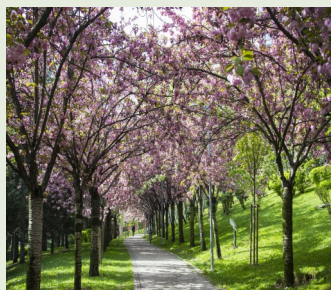

Kind regards,

Shirley

“Be thankful for what you have; you’ll end up having more. If you concentrate on what you don’t have, you will never, ever have enough.”
